Evening School Bill

Frankfort, Kentucky,
March 6th, 1920.

To the Club Women of Ky.:

Thursday, March 4th, 1920, will long be remembered as one of the darkest days in Kentucky's history. It was on that day that Kentucky surrendered her leadership in the illiteracy work in which she ranked first in the nation, and took a step which will put her back fifty years. The Evening School Bill was called up in the House by our enemies without our having a moment's notice or a single chance at its defense and was tabled, which, as you know, defeats a bill.

It has been announced through the press of the state that the club women were coming to Frankfort in large numbers on March 10 in the interest of this bill, and the enemies of the measure choked it off in order to prevent their being heard. These tactics employed by administration leaders to prevent Kentucky's patriotic women from gathering here in the interest of a cause they loved, and in which they had invested $22,000, are unparalleled in history. It is an unheard of thing to call up a bill in this manner without giving the advocates of the measure the chance to marshal their forces. The only injustice that could equal it, it seems, would be the sentencing of a prisoner without trial. Much has been said in Kentucky recently about justice and the majesty of the law. It seems inconceivable that such a scheme as this to prevent Kentucky's women from being heard could be concocted.

We might go on and pass this bill through the Senate, but in that event it could only be returned to the House through the same Committee which took the advantage of us before. We have reason to believe that they would carry this injustice to the limit.

The eyes of the educators and the club women of the whole nation have been on us during this fight. It seems most grievous to think that just at this time when the world has awakened to the evil of illiteracy and is clamoring for the education of adults that our state should be the only quitter, yet it will be a proud record for our Federation of Women's Clubs that we fought for the life of the work and would have fought longer had our opportunity not been cut off in a manner so unfair.

We should now consecrate ourselves to the one issue of reviving this work and redeeming our state.

Yours very sincerely,
Mrs. J. C. Layne
Representative of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs on the Evening School Bill.

THE QUALITY OF MERCY

"For. The quality of Mercy is not strain'd
It droppeth as the gentle rain from heaven
Upon the place beneath: it is twice blest;
It blesseth him that gives and him that takes:
'Tis mightiest in the mightiest: it becomes
The throned monarch better than his crown;
His sceptre shows the force of temporal power,
The attribute to awe and majesty,
Wherein doth sit the dread and fear of kings;
But mercy is above this sceptred sway;
It is enthroned in the hearts of kings,
It is an attribute to God himself;
And earthly power doth then show likest God's
When Mercy seasons justice."

Disciples Merge State Campaign

Rev. Homer W. Carpenter, D.D., Richmond, Director of Drive For $6,500,000 Fund For Next Five Years' Work

LEXINGTON, KY., March 8. —At a meeting of the Promotional Committee of the Board of Education and the United Christian Missionary Society, it was decided to merge the Transylvania and College of the Bible campaign into the Disciples World Movement in Kentucky. The Executive Committee of the Transylvania Campaign Committee has agreed to this merger, and a director for the united movement has been appointed. In addition to the members of the Board of Education in Kentucky, the Foreign Christian Missionary Society, the American Christian Missionary Society, the Christian Woman's Board of Missions, the Board of Church Extension, the Board of Ministerial Relief, and the National Benevolent Association will participate in the campaign. Included in the above organizations are the Kentucky Missionary Society, the State Sunday School Association, and the Widows and Orphans Home at Louisville.

The new organization will take over the machinery set up by the Transylvania College campaign, and will enlarge it so as to represent all the interests. A promotional committee for the state, consisting of Mrs. Louise Loos Campbell, H. W. Elliot, J. H. MacNeil, J. S. Hilton, Lin D. Cartwright, W. Hume Logan, and President R. H. Crossfield has been appointed.

The organizations included in this new movement will attempt to raise about $6,500,000 during the next five years, or a little more than one tenth of the $60,000,000 agreed upon as the Disciples' goal for the five year period. The promotional committee in Kentucky will likely ask for more than one million dollars this year.

The promotional committee of the Board of Education and the United Christian Missionary Society have selected Rev. Homer W. Carpenter, minister of the First Christian Church of Richmond as director. He will give all of his time to this work during March, April and May. Mr. Carpenter's popularity among the churches of Kentucky, his wide knowledge of our people in the state, successful experience, and enthusiastic attitude toward the whole task is a guarantee of the success of the movement. The Richmond church has manifested a very fine spirit in releasing him for the three months, being willing to make the sacrifice in order that the whole task of the Disciples of Christ in the State of Kentucky may be put forward. Funds raised in the state will be divided equally between the representatives of the Board of Education in the state and the United Christian Missionary Society. Designations of gifts will be permitted.

ROCKCASTLE And The Kentucky Road System

By BOONWEAY MAN

The bills just passed by the Legislature have been a great addition towards efficiency in the State Road System and highway conditions generally.

One of the bills passed provides for 56 routings, a number of which cross the State from East to West and from North to South. All county seats being reached by from three to six roads.

Rockcastle gets four lines: Stanford via Brodhead, Somerset via Level Green, Richmond via Scaffold Cane, London via Livingston and Parkers Creek. The writer finds no mention made of a routing from Mt. Vernon to McKee, Jackson County. It may be mentioned in the corrected bill.

Routing No. 5 runs from Covington to Middlesboro, over Dixie Highway and Boone Way.

Three thousand miles of highway is included in what will be known as the State system of roads. These roads will be taken over, reconstructed and maintained in the future under direct charge of State Road Department.

The counties, thru which the State Roads pass, will be relieved of attention or expense thereon.

County authorities are directed to erect signboards at forks and crossings of highways.

The necessary added revenue to augment present State road income, will be collected from automobile owners a tax of 60 cents per horsepower rating on their machines; a tax of one cent per gallon of gasoline used. It is estimated that a sum of $2,300,000 will be raised in 1921 $2,200,000 Federal aid added to State road tax of $500,000 and from other sources, making a total of $5,500,000 for road construction purposes in 1921.

It is claimed that the provisions of the road revenue legislation is a big improvement over the proposed $60,000,000 bond issue.

Inasmuch as automobile owners will soon be paying almost half the expense of the construction and maintenance of the main highways, the fact should, to an extent at least, prove somewhat a palliative to that prejudice which many people have harbored against the users of buzz wagons.

The reconstruction to be done on the old roads and the construction of the new ones included in the three thousand miles of State roads is a mighty big undertaking and the work will not proceed with that speed one would naturally desire. No considerable increase of work over 1919 is expected, for several valid reasons: Shortage of materials, shortage of labor, and the scarcity of trained men, but the big task which will occupy the next several months is that of the engineers and organizers who will have to make the plans for the gigantic undertaking.

Routing No. 4, Lexington to Whitesburg, Letcher county and Pound Gap, Va., goes over the "Kyva" (Kentucky-Virginia) Highway route. This is a most important highway on which the Boone Way Man has been making efforts during past year to place upon the map.

Rockcastle will be enabled to build her cross-roads when the State takes over her main highways.

In recalling the fact that they were the first to make a concerted move for the construction of highways in the mountains, the original 17 members of the Mt. Vernon Commercial Club today surely feel elated over the great progress made in road legislation and road construction and emembering with pride the 22nd of January 1913, the date when the question was brought before the Club, there endorsed and every member going to work with a will which has been somewhat battered at times by "antis," but never knocked out of the ring, the results are most gratifying.

Department of Education

Frankfort, Ky.,
March 9, 1920.

Mrs. Alice Davis,
School Superintendent:

The school laws enacted by the present session of the General Assembly for the most part have an emergency clause and go into effect immediately. There are some features of these laws that it is important for you to know at once. I shall send you a complete copy of these laws as soon as they are available. In the meantime, I wish you would act upon the following points:

One of the laws provides for the levying of a compulsory minimum of 25 cents. The sum of money raised by this levy is to be devoted exclusively to the payment of teachers' salary in addition, of course, to the sum received from the State until a minimum salary of $75 with the salary schedule shall have been reached. If there be any of this sum remaining after meeting the minimum salary requirements, it may be used for the general purposes of education. If the sum of money raised by this 25 cent compulsory minimum is not enough to pay the minimum salary schedule, then your board has the option of increasing the levy to meet this minimum requirement or it may provide for a minimum salary, always remembering however, that whatever sum may be raised by this compulsory minimum levy of 25 cents must be devoted to the payment of teachers' salaries. For practically all counties, the sum raised in this way will be sufficient and ample, but in a few counties a higher rate will be necessary or a lower salary schedule. In the event your board has already fixed its rate of levy, it will be necessary under this law for you to reassemble your board and reconsider your rate. The court I believe has held that it is necessary for your board not only to specify the rate but also the amount of money that they wish to raise and to show by an itemized budget the purposes for which this money is to be used. Whatever rate your board may decide upon up to 50 cents is made mandatory upon the Fiscal Court and they have no choice except to collect the rate demanded.

This law also provides for the employment of an attendance officer to enforce the new compulsory attendance law. You have some months, however, in which to find and employ a suitable person for this position. Teachers will be employed this year as heretofore. The first election for the new county board of education will take place at the coming November election and the board will qualify in March 1921. No one is eligible to serve on this board or to vote for the members of this board except those who reside in the county outside of cities and graded school districts maintaining separate and independent school systems.

All papers of applicants for certificates will be graded from this department and all certificates will be issued from here. The papers will be sent to you just as now is done in the case of examinations for State Certificates. You will continue to use two assistants in conducting these examinations and the

TOBACCO and Its Culture

By W. S. BAILEY, Ganley, Ky.

An odd lot left, will not grow any size; I do not mean for you to count every leaf on each stalk, as this would be tedious a task, but after you get started you can tell at a glance about the number of leaves on a stalk. Next comes the suckering the sucker should never be allowed to grow very large, as they have a tendency to decrease the weight of your tobacco, so never if possible allow them to grow more than three or four inches in height. When you are ready to house, go in front of the knife and get all suckers off perfectly clean, as they will stay green until the tobacco is ready to bulk down for stripping which will cause it to house burn to some extent. The result is a decrease in the market value of your crop. Now, in regard to housing you should be very careful as to when and how to cut and house your crop. In the first place, never make a whole days cutting with the intention to haul in and hang the next day, as it may rain before the next day and perhaps rain for several days, which would injure your tobacco in such a way that it would damage you several hundred dollars. So make your arrangements to bring in all you have cut, the same day you cut it. It would be a good idea providing you have room in your barn, to coop it say 8 or 10 sticks to the coop. This will enable it during the night to wilt and yellow considerably thereby causing it to cure out quicker and better; then you can hang it each morning while the dew is on, this prevents you from getting it in the dew, in the morning. Now in cutting tobacco NEVER spear the stalk, as in most every instance the stalks will not cure out on 1 you are ready to bulk down, then it will heat in the bulk and ruin it. Always split the stalk with a h a to acco knife made to the purpose. This will enable the stalk to quickly cure out.

THE TRUTH IN ADVERTISING

A FEW years ago you heard a lot about the nation-wide movement against misrepresenting goods for sale.

Here's our view point: We are in business to increase sales from year to year

To do this requires the confidence of the people and to get this confidence truth is essential

We believe every article we sell, whether it be a collar button or a suit of clothes is worth every cent we ask for it—sometimes more. We want you to feel the same way after you buy a thing.

If you should not feel that way, the greatest favor you could do yourself and us is to bring it back and give us your reason. We are open to argument and want you to be too.

MAN DIES ON TRAIN NO. 22.

A man whose name we did not get died on train No. 22, between Livingston and Mt. Vernon, on Thursday evening March 4th. He, his wife, and daughter were enroute from Florida to their home in Franklin, Ind. The wife was a paralytic, the daughter was frantic with grief. Some plans were quickly made to remove the body at Mt. Vernon, but by common consent of the passengers, who showed a very sympathetic and generous spirit, Conductor Rose agreed to take the body to Louisville, as requested by the daughter. It was a very tragic and pathetic incident.

Mr. R. S. Thompson and wife of Indianapolis, Ind., spent several days with F. L. Thompson and family, this week. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson spent the winter in Florida, and are on their way home. He lived in this country fifty-two years ago and has been back twice. Mr. Thompson is an ordained minister of the Methodist church but has retired from the active ministry.

Many Prominent Men Come Out for Tanlac

MAYORS, JUDGES, BANKERS,
LAWYERS, DOCTORS, EDITORS
AND MINISTERS
INDORSE IT

Feel it their Duty to Talk

They Come Forward and Unhesitatingly Tell Suffering Humanity What Celebrated Medicine Has Done for Them

It is seldom, indeed, that men of prominence, especially men holding high public office, willingly express their indebtedness publicly to a proprietary medicine. Many prominent men, however, including supreme court judges, mayors of our leading cities, prominent state and county officials, bankers, lawyers, doctors, editors, leading educators, government officials and even ministers of the Gospel have deemed it their duty to come forward and tell the people what Tanlac has done for them.

These well-known men of affairs have recognized in this medicine a new discovery and a scientific triumph in the medical world. It is a well-known fact that these splendid endorsements have been given Tanlac time and time again and they will continue to be given just as often as new tests of its powers are made; and it also explains why numbers of the big drug firms of the country ordering it exclusively in sealed lots.

Dr. J. T. Edwards, of Fayetteville, Ga., one of the best-known members of the medical profession in the state of Georgia, makes a statement that will undoubtedly produce a profound impression throughout the country.

"In my thirty years of actual practice as a licensed physician in the state of Georgia," says Dr. Edwards, "I have never seen anything to equal Tanlac as a medicine to produce results. I have no hesitation in recommending this medicine and I am prescribing for my patients almost every day."

Noted Texan Talks.

Hon. Archie R. Anderson, ex-sheriff of Harris County, Texas, is unquestionably not only one of the best-known, but one of the most popular men that ever held office in Texas. He served the people in this important office for 15 consecutive years.

"I had the worst form of indigestion, suffered all the time from gas on my stomach and was continually belching up undigested food," said Mr. Anderson. "I suffered with neuralgic pains of the worst sort and nothing seemed to help me except in a temporary way."

"I began to feel better after taking my first bottle of Tanlac and have just now started on my third. I'm a different man already."

H. W. Hill, president of one of the leading banking institutions of South Pittsburg, Tenn., and one of the most successful bankers and business men in Tennessee, said:

"I have suffered from rheumatism and other ailments for many years and Tanlac has done me more good than anything I ever tried. I now wake up in the morning feeling fine."

"I'm telling all my friends about Tanlac and am recommending it to them, regardless of their age and trouble."

Dr. G. W. LaPerriere, of Winder, Ga., is not only one of the best-known physicians and druggists in the State of Georgia, but is also a man of extensive property and wide influence, ranking as one of the

FORMER MAYOR RECOMMENDS IT

HON. FRANK V. EVANS, OF BIRMINGHAM, ALA., MAKES STRONG STATEMENT.

One of the latest additions to the large and rapidly growing list of prominent men who have publicly indorsed Tanlac for the good it has done them, is the name of Hon. Frank V. Evans, former Mayor of Birmingham. Mr. Evans is one of the best-known men in public life in Alabama to-day, being at one time Editor of the South's greatest newspaper, the Birmingham Age-Herald. He was also examiner of public accounts of Alabama. In telling of the benefits he had derived from Tanlac, Mr. Evans said:

"For years I suffered with gastritis and indigestion in the worst form. I was habitually constipated and had pains in my shoulders and headache continually. My appetite left me almost entirely and everything I would eat hurt me. Finally I got to having awful attacks of acute indigestion, palpitation of the heart and smothering spells. For a long time I would have one or more of these spells every night and I would wake out of my restless sleep gasping for breath."

"I bought a bottle of Tanlac, and to my surprise and gratification I began to feel relief after the first few doses. I kept taking the medicine and now my recovery is simply the talk of Birmingham."

Other prominent men who have indorsed Tanlac are:

Professor Elmer Morris, of Dover, Tenn.; Professor W. A. Wood, of the Central Graded Schools, Winder, Ga.; C. C. Cooper, President of the Georgia Home Cotton Oil Co., Lawrenceville, Ga.; Hon. S. S. Shepard, member of the Atlanta city council; Hon. Geo. Samuel Riley, former Chief of Police in Macon, Ga.; Hon. C. G. Lavender, register of Williamson county Tennessee; Dr. W. H. Brown, 4822 Charlotte Ave., Nashville, Tenn.; founder and president of the Tennessee Protestant Home for Girls; John F. Carroll, cotton mill superintendent of Chatahoochee and Atlanta; Hon. B. F. Whittington, Judge of the Royster Court, South Omaha, Neb.; Geo. L. Bedford, Traffic Manager for the Gustin Bacon Mfg. Co., Kansas City; Mr. James Taylor, Illinois State Mine and Mineral Inspector, residing at Peoria; Rev. W. C. Norton, pastor of the Wesley Memorial Church of Jacksonville, Fla.; Rev. E. G. Butler, pastor Central Baptist Church of Muskogee, Okla.; Hon. R. W. Damon, attorney of Tacoma, Wash.; Hon. C. W. Mangum, of Atlanta, for three terms sheriff of Fulton County, Ga.; Rev. J. H. Dunn, pastor of the Church of Christ, Spokane, Wash.; Judge G. W. Kyser, 1204 W. 9th St., Austin, Texas, and hundreds of others in every part of the country.

Tanlac is sold in Mt. Vernon by Chas. C. Davis, in Broadhead by The Broadhead Pharmacy, and in Livingston by R. G. Webb.

WHY COLDS ARE DANGEROUS

You are often told to "beware of cold," but why? We will tell you: Every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality and paves the way for the more serious diseases. People who contract pneumonia first take cold. The longer a cold hangs on, the greater the danger, especially from the germ diseases, as a cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs of consumption, diphtheria, scarlet fever and whooping cough. The quicker you get rid of your cold, the less the danger of contracting one of these diseases. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a great reputation as a cure for colds and can be depended upon. It is pleasant to take.

NOTICE

TRANSLYVANIA HAS OLDEST LIBRARY

PRICELESS COLLECTION OF BOOKS OWNED BY LEXINGTON COLLEGE NOT IN FIREPROOF HOUSE.

MANY WORKS ARE IN LATIN

Ancient Medical and Law Books Could Not Be Replaced—Many of Them Centuries Old.

Lexington, Ky.—The oldest library in Kentucky and one of the oldest in the United States, a library estimated by lovers of old books to be worth $250,000, which is centuries old, is one of the possessions of Transylvania College, the first college west of the Alleghenies, whose financial foundation was formed by the escheated estates of three Revolutionary period Tories.

Probably nowhere else in America, if anywhere else in the world, can the volumes of Transylvania's old library be duplicated.

Many of these priceless old books are of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, true examples of what was then a fine art, the type as clear as the day they were printed, many of the texts in Latin, though some of them, like William Cowper's "Anatomy of Human Bodies," 1685, and Culpepper's "Astrological Judgment of Diseases," 1655, both published in London, are in the English of that time.

These books were purchased by Transylvania College, which was founded in 1821, and were among the first of the collection.

Dr. Charles Caldwell, of the Medical College of Transylvania, took with him to Paris in 1821 the sum of seventeen thousand dollars with which to buy books for the medical library, and these books still are consulted by the medical experts of America, who can find them nowhere else. Dr. Caldwell found that because of the stormy times in France many libraries which had belonged to Frenchmen heretofore in the wealthy classes had found their way to the bookshelves of America.

Tells of Purchases.

"I found and purchased," he says in his report, "no inconsiderable number of the choicest works of the fathers of medicine, from Hippocrates to the revival of letters—works which in no other way, and perhaps at no other time, could have been collected so readily and certainly and on terms so favorable, either in Paris or any other city of the world. Hence the decided superiority of Transylvania's medical library, in those works, to any other in the west and south, and probably in the whole United States."

Dr. Peter and Dr. Bush, of the medical school, in 1833 made another foreign purchase for the medical college, when they spent eleven thousand dollars for books and apparatus in London and Paris. One of Dr. Bush's cameras, first given to the world in that year, is among the apparatus they brought back to Lexington, and it is today in Transylvania's museum, along with other rare and costly apparatus of that early date.

This medical library is practically intact, and is rich in rare material for the medical student and author. Printed in the clean, clear type of the period, their bindings are such as to delight the eye of the book lover and connoisseur.

Ratnesque's Works.

The collection of medical botanics and works on natural history especially are interesting and show the influence of Ratnesque himself, who for seven years, from 1819 to 1826, was the head of this department in Transylvania. Among the bird books there is the set of Alexander Wilson, published in Philadelphia from 1808 to 1813, with five volumes added to it about twenty years later by Charles Lucien Bonaparte; George Edwards' "Natural History of Birds" and "Gleanings of Natural History," published in London, 1743 to 1764; "The Natural History of Carolina, Florida and the Bahama Islands," by Mark Catesby, published in London in 1771; all large volumes with beautiful, clear-cut plates. Besides these, there is the "Dictionnaire des Sciences Naturelles," of M. Dumont de Sainte-Croix, printed in Paris between 1816 and 1830, probably the most artistically illustrated of any in the set.

The first publication on the general botany of North America is in this library. It is the "Flora Boreali-Americana" of Andreus Michaux, published in Paris in 1803. There are also "Flora Virginica," by John Clayton, published in Leyden in 1702; William C. B. Barton's "The Flora of North America," published in Philadelphia in 1823, and many others of equal interest.

The Old Law Library.

The old law library was once as valuable as the medical and other scientific books, but unfortunately has not been so well preserved through the centuries. There are left, however, many interesting books, among them the Hargrave collection of state trials, in which are found the proceedings at the trial of Captain William Kidd for piracy; the trial of Anne Boleyn, in which her last letter to King Henry is published; the trials of Sir Walter

Older Boys' Conference

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Poynter have been sick, but we are glad to report that they are better at this writing.

Eleven of our high school boys attended the Older Boys' Conference at Somerset, March 5, 6, 7. This conference was held under auspices of the State Young Men's Christian Association.

The banquet given by the Domestic Science Class of the Somerset school was one of the most enjoyable happenings of the convention. It is said that no other school in our state can serve and prepare a meal for so many in its own walls. The welcome address was given by Prof. Sam Mayfield, Chester Gragg, Judge E. T. Wesley and Rev. C. H. Talbott. Response D. H. Lyon.

The address of the evening was delivered by Dr. W. A. Ganfield, President of Centre College.

Saturday the boys listened to talks and addresses from the following: Mr. R. W. Raaf, District Sec'y Y. M. C. A.; Mr. L. J. Darter, Boys' Work Sec'y, Y. M. C. A.; Mr. P. C. Dix, State Sec'y Y. M. C. A. The evening address was given by Dr. R. H. Crossfield, President of Transylvania College.

CATARHAI, DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the year. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unks: the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's catarrh medicine acts through the blood on the mucous surface of the system.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of Catarrhal deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c. F. J. CHENNEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

Pepto-Mangan Makes Rich Red Blood—Builds Up Pale, Thin Anemic Men and Women

Good health is the most important asset of life. Without a vigorous, strong body and a keen, clear mind, true happiness and enjoyment are impossible.

And yet so many women, and men too, whose misfortune it is to be pale, thin and anemic, hopelessly accept this condition in belief that robust health and real happiness are not for them.

This beneficial blood tonic contains the very properties so vitally needed to improve the blood. Pepto-Mangan, if taken for a few weeks, will enrich the blood and create thousands of the tiny red blood cells that are so necessary to carry nourishment and strength to every part of the body. Pepto-Mangan is safe, beneficial, and pleasant to the taste.

For convenience it is prepared in liquid and tablet form, both possessing exactly the same medicinal properties.

SENATOR MARK SMITH ONCE STUDENT OF TRANSYLVANIA

Senator Mark Smith, of Arizona, was once a student at Transylvania College at Lexington. Senator Smith has taken front rank among the statesmen of the new Southwest, and often comes back to Kentucky to visit the old home at Cynthiana, and the scenes of his student labors at the Lexington College where he laid the foundation of his subsequent career.

Raleigh, Lord Cobham, Mary, Queen of Scots, members of the Guspowder Plot, and of the Archbishop of Canterbury, the prelate on charges of heresy.

In 1814, the library was enriched by a gift from "His Britannic Majesty William IV," of 81 folios, in each of which was bound a slip stating that the volume is to be "perpetually preserved in the library of Transylvania University." These include four volumes of the Doomsday Book, catalogues of manuscripts in the British Museum, calendars of the proceedings of Queen Elizabeth, copies of the reign under various kings, and books of facsimiles of the historic charters of England.

Edward Everett, in 1820 presented to the university twelve vellum-bound folios of Latin and Greek authors, one of which bears his autograph. The younger Michaux, the famous French scientist, gave the college a huge Chinese dictionary with translations in French and Latin. The gift, made in 1824, bears the autograph of the donor on a sheet of paper held down at the four corners of the wafers of the period, attached to the inside of the cover.

Mohammedan's Gift.
A Mohammedan theologian, whose name has not been preserved, gave to the college an "illuminated Persian manuscript" which is spoken of in a catalogue of gifts to the college published in 1822. This manuscript was translated recently by a Persian scholar, and it proved to be the history, written in 1734, of Timour, the conqueror of Persia.

"Classicks," published by some of the most famous of the publishers of the 16th and 17th centuries, still in perfect condition and sumptuously bound, constitute another feature of the library. Many of these bear on the margins notes made by readers in Greek letters as clear and perfect as the type in which they are printed. These are matchless examples of the typographers' art and include a copy of Plutarch's Lives, published in Paris in 1624, which is 16 1/2 by 11 1/2 inches, and four inches thick, and weighs sixteen pounds; a large tome of Grotius, made in Amsterdam; a three-volume edition of Gill Blas, made in Paris; a two-volume edition of Plinius, printed at Leipsic, and many smaller volumes in leather bindings brightened by decorations in gold.

The library also includes a copy of the first English edition of Novum Organum, published in 1655; Descartes' "Principia," published in 1689, and a London edition of Erasmus' "Familiar Colloquies," which gives evidence of much use, and which recalls the fact that it was denounced by the doctors of the Sorbonne as "an erroneous, scandalous and impious publication," and its reading prohibited.

Published Bulletin.
Transylvania College recently published a bulletin which contains a catalogue of the rare and valuable volumes in its library. Twenty-four pages of the bulletin are filled with this list. The books catalogued total 238 volumes. Some of the books in the college library show the names of the men who helped in the establishment of this, the first college of its grade west of the Alleghenies. These names, written on the fly leaves of the books they gave to the University, include those of John Todd, Levi Todd, John Bradford, Henry Clay, Buckner Thruston, Benjamin Gratz, Charles S. Morehead, James Garrard, Richard M. Johnson, Thomas A. Marshall, Nathaniel G. Hart, Humphrey Marshall, Robert Wycliffe and John C. Breckinridge, most of whom helped to make the history of the commonwealth to which they thus early gave the books for its first educational institution.

TRANSYLVANIA CAMPUS COVERS TEN ACRES.

The Campus of Transylvania College at Lexington covers ten acres of land in the heart of the city. The college is just across the street from the Carnegie Library and students, therefore, are close to that institution, as well as having the advantage of the rare old library of Transylvania, which has attracted the attention of scholars the country over.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

To the business man, retail or wholesale; to the manufacturer; to the commission man; to the trucking company, the Ford Model T One Ton Truck makes an irresistible appeal because it has in its chassis all the merits of the original Ford car; the wonderful Ford Model T Motor, the dependable Vanadium steel chassis, and the manganese bronze worm-drive. A strongly built truck that serves satisfactorily and lasts in service. If these statements were not true, the demand for Ford Trucks wouldn't be so constantly on the increase. We will be pleased to take your order for one or more Ford Trucks, will see that you get reasonably prompt delivery, and will give you an after service that insures the constant service of the Truck. But don't wait too long. Get your order in promptly.
